Getting started

You want to find peer-reviewed research articles on the topic of trauma-informed practices in schools. Prepare to search by generating keywords and breaking down your topic into the concepts you want in the search results.

For example:

Concept 1: trauma-informed is a type of practice.

Concept 2: teaching or learning or classrooms are places to apply trauma-informed practices.

A note about the power of and, or in searches:

Use and between your concepts to narrow search results to items with both concepts.

Use or between keywords to broaden the search to include related keywords for a single concept.

Tip 1 Searching

One Search is selected by default when searching ASU Library. Enter keywords from your research topic in the search bar.

If your keywords do not return relevant results, try using related keywords. For example, try searching teaching instead of classrooms.

To use a specific search category click the drop-down menu under the search bar.

Tip 2 Limiting results

ASU Library provides access to millions of informational resources. Limit your search results to help you find the most relevant sources for your research. Below are some of the limits you can use to narrow results in One Search; these can be found on the right-side filtering menu, next to your initial search results.
